

Atomic Energy of Oncof Matter Could Raise Fleet, Says Scientist

BIRMINGHAM, England, Sept. 18.—If the atomic energy of an ounce of matter could be utilized it would be sufficient to raise the German ships sunk in the Scapa Flow and pile them on top of the Scotch mountains. Sir Oliver Lodge, the eminent scientist, said yesterday in an address at Midland Institute in connection with memorial ceremonies held on the occasion of the death of James Watt, inventor of the condensing steam engine.

Sir Oliver declared that the first utilization of atomic properties of matter was in wireless telephony. He said that he hoped the human race would not discover how to use atomic energy fully until it had brains and morality enough to use it properly, because if the discovery were made before its time and by the wrong people this planet would be unsafe.

LID IS ON TO STAY, DRY MEN DECLARE

The "dry" members of Congress and representatives of the Anti-Saloon League declared today they are confident the lid is on to stay, and that conditions are so shaping themselves that President Wilson will not be able to lift war-time prohibition before the constitutional amendment becomes operative, January 16 of next year.

The war-time prohibition law is operative "until the conclusion of the present war, and thereafter until the termination of demobilization, the date of which shall be determined and proclaimed by the President."

Prohibitionists, pinning their faith to the first part of this law—"until the conclusion of the present war," declare that the President cannot exercise his power of lifting the ban until the United States is technically, as well as practically at peace. To be technically at peace requires the ratification of the Senate.

Demobilization seems to be near at hand and the "wets" are a ray of hope. Ratification also is shortly looked for. However, the "drys" insist that the treaty with Austria must also be ratified before the law permits the removal of war-time prohibition.

U. S. SUBMARINE GOES AGROUND

Boat Takes Wrong Course On Voyage To Cambridge.

OXFORD, Md., Sept. 18.—A United States submarine, 195 feet long, of the L class, went aground off Benoni Light buoy in the Choptank river Sunday night. It was on its way to Cambridge, but through error passed on the wrong side of the buoy. A passing crabber took several officers to Oxford to summon aid.

During the day many gallons of oil and gasoline were pumped overboard in a vain effort to lighten the craft. On Monday night a Baltimore tug, the "Atlantic," came and pulled the boat into the channel. It was not damaged.

DORR RESIGNS AS WAR INDUSTRIES BOARD HEAD

G. H. Dorr, chairman of the war industries board and assistant director of munitions, has sent his resignation to Secretary of War Baker. He had charge of all materials taken over by the Government.

Since the signing of the armistice, Mr. Dorr has been in charge of the work of cancellation of contracts for war materials. Before coming to Washington he was a lawyer in New York.

BULLITT TESTIMONY

HENDERSON HARBOR, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Secretary Lansing, now the central figure in the peace treaty fight by reason of the Bullitt testimony before the Foreign Relations Committee, is "just plain." For the present at least he intends to keep on "plain." What he may say or do later—between now and the time the treaty is ratified or after its ratification—he has not yet decided.

Lansing made this clear today as he stood on the porch of his cottage, overlooking the waters of Henderson Harbor, headquarters of his fishing trip. He planned to spend about ten days more here, and will not return to Washington until the treaty is ratified, conditions make his presence there necessary, he said.

To the suggestion that he should say something in response to the Bullitt testimony, as it made him the central figure in the situation, the Secretary added the phrase, "and I am just fishing."

It was an open secret in Paris at the stage of the peace conference that Lansing had threatened to resign. It was reported on apparently good authority that he had discussed such a step with friends. The situation, apparently, did not reach the stage of his resignation being actually tendered, however, as the Secretary today said he had not discussed the possibility of his resignation with the President.

Lansing has not received a transcript of the Bullitt testimony. Until he sees the transcript, he said, he would make no comment. To the suggestion of whether he shared the feeling expressed by some Democratic Senators that Bullitt had violated his (Lansing's) confidence, the Secretary replied: "I guess I won't discuss Bullitt either."

In Paris it was generally noted and a matter of comment, that Lansing was obviously irritated by the methods of Wilson, Lloyd George, Orlando and Clemenceau in reaching decisions, regardless of the recommendations made by various experts and without the knowledge of the other members of the committee.

In the case of the trial of the Kaiser, for instance, the American report from the committee on responsibilities was strongly against the Kaiser, because of lack of actual legal evidence. It was conceded that there was no doubt of the Kaiser's moral guilt, but Lansing held that there was no legal means of bringing him to trial.

Lansing irritated.

In Paris it was said in some quarters that Lansing was irritated by the alleged methods of planning the Kaiser's trial.

Lansing was chairman of the committee on responsibilities, yet when Lloyd George announced that the Kaiser would be tried in London, newspaper reports of the announcement brought Lansing his first information of the decision.

"That is just an example of the way things have been done from start to finish," a friend of the Secretary's remarked when French sources contradicted the fact that President Wilson and Clemenceau had agreed to Lloyd George's proposal that London be designated as the place for the Kaiser's trial.

The Secretary would not discuss the conference or treaty situation in any of its phases today, however, and reiterated that he would not until he had complete information of Bullitt's testimony.

FOOD RIOTS AGAIN START IN BERLIN

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Food riots have broken out in Berlin, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from that city today. The worst disorders occurred in Alexanderplatz, in the heart of the city. The food shops were closed to prevent looting.

NUTRATED IRON—MASTER STRENGTH BUILDER OF THE BLOOD

The Power Behind the Strong Sturdy Men and Healthy Beautiful Women of Today

"To make strong, keen, red-blooded Americans there is nothing in my experience which I have found so valuable as organic iron. Nuxated Iron," says Dr. Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York and the Westchester County Hospital, "restored iron by enriching the blood and creating new blood cells strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the system, and helps to instill renewed energy and endurance into the whole system. It often increases the strength of weak, delicate people in two weeks' time. It is estimated that over 3,000,000 people use Nuxated Iron annually as a tonic, and blood-builder."

MAKE THIS TEST YOURSELF And Find Out Where Your Blood Stands

See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Numbers of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while have most astonishingly increased their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form.

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron recommended and prescribed by physicians in a great variety of cases. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not irritate the stomach, and does not cause constipation. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser. If they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by People's Drug Store, Christian's Drug Store, and all other druggists.

WRONG MAN KILLED BY BANDIT POSSE

Searching Party Fires On Suspects, Now Believed Innocent.

SAYANNA, Ill., Sept. 18.—Enraged Sayanna citizens, forming a posse this noon for the capture of three hold-up men, shot and killed Louis Blum and wounded Peter Cymbal, both of Chicago. It is now believed that they fired upon the wrong men. Thomas Burns and Mike Lezandowski, also of Chicago, are being held pending the inquest this afternoon.

Louis Gydson, Sayanna Hotel proprietor and three neighbors had been robbed by the three hold-up men a few minutes before the posse was formed, yielding $266 in cash. Two of the guests were relieved of their watches, but the robbers were induced to return the watches and also gave $5 back to one of the men on the latter's plea that he was stranded miles from home.

The posse scoured the environs of the city and searched every train, picking up what was believed to be a "hot trail" when the four men leaped from a box car and started for the swamp south of the city. A volley of shots followed the fugitives' refusal to halt.
